Re: Thesaurus for the Lab

The Writing Lab is sorely in need of at least one thesaurus. The need (see, I could have used one right there) for one comes up frequently when we work with students on rough drafts, and they can't think of any words besides the 450 that are in their vocabulary.

We would, of course, prefer two or three nice, big, hard-bound editions, but we would be grateful for one little paperback.

Love,
